

Dar Al-Hekma University, CCTS stands for the Conference on Creativity, Technology, and Sustainability. This annual international conference serves as a platform to showcase cutting-edge scientific breakthroughs and to keep pace with rapid advancements in these fields. The conference aligns with Saudi Vision 2030 and aims to foster a culture of research, development, and innovation. Scribd+2Dah University+2Dah University+2LinkedIn+3Dah University+3Dah University+3

The most recent event, CCTS 2025, was held from April 30 to May 1, 2025, at Dar Al-Hekma University in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. The conference attracted distinguished local and international experts, academicians, and thought leaders who contributed their expertise to address global challenges and strengthen the connection between universities and various developmental sectors. Dah University+1Dah University+1

The inaugural conference, CCTS 2024, took place on May 15–16, 2024, and its proceedings were published by Springer in the Proceedings in Technology Transfer series. The publication includes peer-reviewed articles focusing on the dynamic interplay between creativity, technology, and sustainability, emphasizing the need for advancements that align with Saudi Arabia's Vision 2030 and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. Dah University+7SpringerLink+7LinkedIn+7

For more information about the conference and its objectives, you can visit the official CCTS 2025 conference page.